

Octagon Developments use Haddonstone for Bishops Row

The client

Octagon Developments is an award-winning luxury residential developer based in Surrey. With over 40 years of architectural expertise, they specialise in prestigious houses, mansions and apartments in premier locations.

The brief

Octagon approached the team at Haddonstone to manufacture high quality stonework for a new development on Bishops Row in Fulham, London.

Bishops Row is a terrace of nine elegant houses running parallel to the River Thames. The deceptively spacious 4/5 bedroom townhouses are centred around family living with high specification finishes. The design features innovative outdoor spaces including courtyard gardens, balconies and terraces overlooking the river.

The solution

The location and prestige of the Bishops Row development required high attention to detail and a luxurious finish. Our team worked closely with Octagon to ensure that the stonework would reflect the prestigious vision for the development.

Our high specification stonework was used to enhance the façade of each property with designs ranging from porticos, parapets and balustrading to cladding, pier caps and window surrounds.

Each property includes an impressive entrance walkway through a walled garden featuring pier caps and copings manufactured by our skilled team. A portico with a balustraded balcony was used to provide a grand entrance into each property.

The private walled gardens to the rear of Bishops Row were also enhanced with our capping stones and cladding to provide a more contemporary feel.

Whilst some of our standard products worked well for the project there was also a need to produce custom-made stonework to suit the high specification design requirements.

The result

With Bishops Row nearing completion, we are delighted with the high specification finish of the development, sitting proudly on the River Thames.

UKCSA Award 2019: Best Overall Cast Stone Project, Highly Commended.

Client testimonial

"We have been working with Haddonstone for a number of years. As a long-established family owned and run company, they have similar values to Octagon when it comes to maintaining excellence and perfection. Their technical expertise and quality of work is always outstanding and their stonework on some of our earlier developments looks as good today as it did when the buildings were initially completed. Costing is also key in these challenging times, and Haddonstone have always managed to work within our budgets.

They were a key contributor to our Bishops Row properties in Fulham, where their lavish period stonework added that sought-after stylish flourish to our 9 spacious townhouses which sit adjacent the River Thames."
